Chapter 1: Sky Arcanum

Alchemy, the science that would make any man to go mad for its power, or the power that could save the world from its fated destruction.

It has been two years since its four seals had been broken; however nothing seemed to have changed at all, except for the sky which was all shaded with golden and silver lights all around.

Ael Ael wake up A soft voice said in the middle of the darkness, light suddenly spread through the area, revealing a little room with wooden walls, there was a tall, purple eyed, brunette, she looked about sixteen, with long hair standing next to the electricity switch, she was wearing a silver shirt with a black skirt that covered half of the height of her legs, and a black scarf; In the same room, there was a guy sleeping over a bed, he looked about seventeen, he had spiked black hair and was wearing a black shirt and pants , with a gold necklace that had the shape of a moon.

Ael Ael, it s late The girl said as she grabbed the guy s shoulder and moved him around.

Hu...huh? What is it Leat? He asked half-sleep.

Leat, the girl in the room, sighed, making Ael wake up was an everyday challenge for her, she closed her eyes and concentrated, the window opened a current of wind started to enter by it, after that the wind began to spin around until it took the shape of a little tornado that moved around Ael.

Wha-What s going on?! Ael asked, as he quickly opened his eyes, his left was black and his right was gold.

We are going to be late Ael! They are coming to our town today! Leat said in a childish tone.

Ael sighed in relief and said Ok, Ok. And put on his golden boots, then walked out of the room.

Leat smiled, the looked by the window and saw how many people was gathering outside Today sure is an special day, the adepts are coming to out town she whispered.

Ael and Leat has both been born in the Town of Fall , a lonely poor town located not too far next to the Gaia falls, both are childhood friends and lost their parents years ago, however, after the golden sky had covered the area, gossip about The adepts was spread , it was known that the adepts had brought wealth to the world, and were going around poor towns to provide better food and help the town to grow into a better place, and today , in the first day of June , the adepts would come to the Town of Fall.

Leat then walked into the living room and saw Ael, sitting over a pile of leaves, eating a bread with a glass of water.

Geez, what are you doing Ael? We are going to be late!! Leat said, then grabbed Ael s arm and dragged him out of the house.

A few minutes later Ael and Leat had managed to go into the crowd, to wait for the adepts, by the entrance of the town, which was only a big area with short grass and a few wooden houses around with random animals.

Suddenly a lot of excited and happy screams came from the crowd as a tall blonde, with a long yellow scarf, a blue armor, brown pants, brown boots, a sword attached to his back, and golden orb falling like a necklace over his chest, appeared walking towards the entrance of the town.

That necklace Ael whispered as he saw the guy approaching.

What is it? Leat asked confused

It s the same as the Necklace dad gave me Ael answered as his eyes stared at the necklace on the blonde s chest.
